Friends of Ballinger Scoff at Allegations of Big Frauds.

Washington Aug. 14.—The Interior Department ridicules statements re garding the appropriation of power sites in Montana and the charge that the chief officers of the department have used their influence to assist in the illegal patenting and combination of Alaska coal claims. On the contrary, they assert the department is now rushing these very coal cases to hearing, with almost certain prospect that they will be forfeited. No one cares to say much in the absence of Secretary Ballinger, but some will admit that they believe the "information" which has been spread broadcas recently has been given out by the Forest Service, which, they say, has had men going through the Interior Department records for some weeks

It is admitted that Ballinger once drew up legal papers for Cunningham, who has been manipulating some coal deals, but it is innisted that he has had no business dealings with Cunningham rince he came back to Wash-Assistant Secretary Pierce.

WAIKIKI PLEASES

Waikiki's waters have won the Conresamen and their families, as was evident this morning when for the cond time the party passed the Moena Hotel.

The delights of the warm water and the novelty of the aquatic sports have delighted them beyond measure. As they massed along the shore road this morning there were many promises made to get back into the painted wat ers as soon as possible,

One of the Congressmen said this afternoon that nowhere has he experienced such absolute pleasure in the water as in Hawaii and it was the same that this morning first expressed a desire to live here, a desire that was echoed by several others in all earnestness.

The switch is thrown by press foot attachment on the car coming in contact with a spring knob, placed any distance from the switch. The value of the new appliance is in the fact that by a single press from the car the switch can be thrown to the right or lefthand track at the option of the motorman. Each contact with the press foot will throw the switch from its present position to the opposite, yet the apparatus does not in the least interfere with the switch being thrown by hand if occasion should require, and after such handthrown movement the next contact from a car will throw the switch back again regardless of the direction in which it was thrown by hand.

The apparatus itself is simple in construction, inexpensive to manufacture and has no complicated or delicate parts to get out of order.

It is believed by those interested in the matter that the invention will ecome popular, not only as a time saver, but will lessen the disagreeable duties of conductors during during stormy weather, when they must paddle out in the rain and mud with a dirty switch iron to open the
